THE DAILY AVALANCHE

Louis Napoleon is individually in debt some six millions of francs.

Twenty thousand dollars was bet even on the Jones-McCools fight in Louisville.

The public debt of Nicaragua, according to financial reports to the last of December, 1866, amounted to $2,833,475.

There is a blackberry patch in Maine twenty miles square. Ten thousand bushels were picked there this year.

Immense heards of buffalo are seen near Fort Kearney, going south. Indians are following them, and trouble is expected.

The Saints' Tabernacle at Salt Lake City is now finished. It is 250 feet wide, and will accommodate 10,000 persons.

Spot the man who attempts to dead head on the ground of his connection, or pretended connection with a newspaper.

Registration has closed in Alabama, and the returns so far show a majority of 26,838 for the negroes.

A divorce is hinted at between the Princess Alice of Hesse, Victoria's daughter, and her husband, who is said to be brutal in his treatment.

It is reported that Secretary McCulloch has accepted an offer of Jay Cooke & Co., to manage a new banking house they are about to open in London.

They are holding a great anti-slavery Congress in Paris, at which there are a "large number of Americans and many representatives of the African race present."

Eighty cigar manufactories in Havana closed, being unable to pay the new Government imposition. Hundreds of workmen have thus been thrown out of employment.

A dispatch from London states that the position assumed by General Grant in the American Cabinet had had a marked effect on American bonds, particularly five-twenties.

Doctor James Jackson, the oldest member of the medical profession in Boston, and one of the most eminent physicians of the country, died in Boston on the 28th ultimo, in his ninetieth year.

A mysterious murder case has been developed at Lansingburg, New York. The body of a young woman was thrown from a carriage; it bore marks of a recent attempt at abortion. Two men have been arrested on suspicion.

It is stated in the Central Pacific Railroad Company's prospectus that iron and heavy freights can be shipped round the Horn to California at less cost than it would take to send them from the Atlantic port to Missouri.

The price of wives among the Caffres in Africa has lately risen materially. Fifteen cows would formerly purchase as good a wife as the market afforded, but twenty cows are now demanded for an ordinary article.

It is reported that Miss Maggie Mitchell made $16,000 last year. Her residence is a modest house in Fifty-fourth street, near Fifth avenue. She has a well selected library, and her drawing rooms are furnished with exquisite taste.

On the island of Cuba there were twelve hundred and nineteen cases of yellow fever and one hundred and thirty-four cases of small pox throughout the month of July, and two hundred and twenty-six deaths occurred from the fever.

The National Intelligencer qualifies its demands for reform in the Cabinet by some forbearance or recommendation of delay in regard to Mr. McCulloch, but the New York Herald vehemently calls for his removal.

General Schofield has decided that the Virginia poor laws shall be put in operation for the vagrant negroes, who are no longer supported by the Freedmen's Bureau. They will be sent to the counties where they belong.

Some months ago certain members of the Illinois Legislature were flattering themselves upon having procured the passage of the eight hour law, and there was quite a contest as to which of them was entitled to the honor of being its "author." On Thursday the Labor Congress voted that the law was "a fraud upon the laboring classes."

Colonel B. M. Edwards, an ex-Union officer, charged with uttering seditious language in the late canvass, has been tried and convicted in McMinn county, East Tennessee, and disqualified from holding any office whatever for three years. The jury was composed exclusively of loyal leaguers.

The Galveston Bulletin protests against croakers in the reign of yellow fever. It says that one lady was convalescent, pronounced out of all danger, and was for two or three days doing finely, when a croaker came in with a budget of horrors, and rehearsed them in her hearing. In one hour the lady was in her coffin, killed by a croaker.

The people of Fauquier county, Virginia, are elated over the discovery of what they deem to be gold bearing quartz. Porcelain clay of good quality has been found in the same county. Very recently gold was discovered in digging a well in the city of Richmond, and we hear of other discoveries of gold and copper throughout the State.

The New York Gazette says that on Broadway, between Canal street and Grace Church, there are over fifty stores "to let." From the six story marble palace to the dark shop beneath the sidewalk, there are empty rooms, as silent as the tomb, waiting for occupants. Never, in the history of the street, has such a fact been known before.

General Wade Hampton has written a letter, in which he takes strong grounds against the Congressional plan of reorganization. While he is anxious for restoration, he prefers military rule to the proffered terms, and denies the right of Congress to interfere with suffrage in the States. He advises the people to register, and vote against the convention.

Charles Wooster, alias Collins, the most successful post office robber and jail breaker in the United States, who was sentenced some time ago to ten years' imprisonment in the Western penitentiary, at Pittsburg, succeeded in escaping from that institution some days ago. Wooster was confined in the jail at Salem, New Jersey, a few years ago, upon a similar charge, from which he succeeded in escaping.

The great curiosity of New Marlboro, Massachusetts, is the "tipping rock," which is as large as a load of hay, and weighs about fifty tons, but is so nicely balanced that it can be moved by the hand, and is even made to vibrate by the wind. It stands upon a round topped hill, where there are no other rocks except the one it rests upon, which is even with the surface, is balanced upon three points, and like a table on an uneven floor, it can be tipped up till it touches a fourth projection.

A dispatch from Sandusky, Ohio, 30th, says: On Wednesday last, the 28th instant, John McGreer and Charles Kinney, of Kelly Island, near Sandusky, swam a race in Lake Erie, from Kelly's Island toward the main land at Marble Head, distance four miles and a half. When they had swam three miles Kinney was so far behind that he gave up and got into a boat. McGreer kept on and reached Marble Head in just two hours and a half, making the entire distance without halt or rest. He smoked, chewed tobacco, drank wine and sung sons on the way, and at the end seemed very little fatigued. This is the most remarkable swimming feat on record.

The Chattanooga Union of the 30th reports a serious collision between whites and blacks in Washington, Rhea county, East Tennessee, on Wednesday, which resulted in the negroes being driven out of town. Securing the assistance of the Loyal League, they returned and renewed the fight, which was kept up for some time with varying success. A number were wounded. Fears are entertained of a general collision in that neighborhood.

Mrs. Bastig, a Fifth street milliner of Cincinnati, who suffered from sunstroke four or five years ago, fled from her home Wednesday, in a fit of mental depression and excitement. It is said to occur annually at the corresponding time when she was sunstruck. Her disappearance at this time is attended by the disappearance of a large quantity of lace goods and finery, which in her temporary insanity she took the pains to secure from her stock and carry with her.

A dispatch from the west to St. Louis, of the 30th, says: About one-half of Reynolds City, Montana, was burned on the 10th instant. The Montana Rangers, General Green, were expected to move against the Indians in a short time. Five dollars had been paid for three Indian scalps. No tidings had been received of the expedition which left Fort Hays, Kansas, a few days since. The wife of Colonel Bankhead and twenty-five men of the 5th regiment died of cholera at Fort Wallace.

Judge Kinkead, late the Third party candidate for Governor of Kentucky, has written a most disgraceful letter since the election, addressed to those who voted for him. This, and any other emanations from the leaders of this faction, proves most conclusively that the Northern Democrats acted wisely in refusing to espouse their cause. We cannot believe, however, that honest Democrats in Kentucky, who voted the Kinkead ticket, will continue to adhere to leaders so evidently factious and malignant.

Boyd & Company, solicitors of patents, 208 Pine street, St. Louis, Missouri, officially report to the AVALANCHE the following patents granted Tennessee, Kentucky, Mississippi and Texas inventors for the week ending August 26th, 1867: J. M. Cayce, Franklin, Tennessee, portable forge; also, sporting life boat; L. H. Bowl s, Knoxville, Tennessee, fence; E. Jewell, Louisville, Kentucky, watch; C. C. Hare, Louisville, Kentucky, sad iron; J. French, Newport, Kentucky, boiler guage cock; J. G. Cummings, Columbus, Kentucky, cotton press; J. C. Walker, Waco Village, Texas, coffee pot; J. Adams, Clarksville, Texas, combined planter and cultivator.

MONDAY'S NOON DISPATCHES.

Facts and Fancies From Washington.

Sickles' Interference with Process of the United States Courts.

The Opinion of the Attorney General.

WASHINGTON, September 2.—Attorney General Brinckley, under date of August 21, submitted to the President a very long opinion in regard to General Sickles' intererence with the execution of a judgment of the District Court of the United States, Chief Justice Chase presiding, under his order No. 20. After reciting at length the circumstances of such inference, and quoting a paragraph of said order prohibiting the enforcement of the judgment or decree for payment of money are caused of action arising between the 19th of September 1865, and the 15th of May, 1861, the Attorney General argues at length that the judicial powers of the United States are invested anterior to the laws of Congress by special provision of the Constitution. A similar grant of jurisdiction by General Sickles must have superior efficiency, and such power is asserted in his order. The Attorney General refers to the announcement of the Chief Justice that it was incompatible with the authority of the national judiciary to sit where a military authority existed which could impede its process, and that it was solely in consequence of the fact that no such military authority then existed that he felt willing to hold that Court. He therefore submits that the case is one of those which, by virtue of the provisions of the statute in force for the punishment of persons who obstruct the process of the United States Courts, and is simply the case of a higher misdemeanor legally contemplated. The Attorney General then proceeds to argue at great length the supremacy of the Court under the Constitution over military authority, and cites numerous authorities to support this position, and defines the scope and extent of these powers, showing by them that whenever within the territory of the United States, irrespective of persons or circumstances, a matter of controversy arises which is distinctly comprehended under any one of the clauses of the Constitution, and which is in such a position as to be susceptible of judicial action, it must go within adjudication, or else must be adjudicated by the courts of the United States. This provision being organic, it is beyond the legislative power, if that would be supposed ever to have made the attempt, to refer the adjudication of any such case against the consent of parties or in derogation of the power of the judiciary, the executive power or to any power or agency whatever. He argues that the action of the judiciary would be wholly ineffectual unless the result in each proper case was conclusive and binding upon other branches of the Government and the entire people of the country. To control our proceedings, it would exercise control over the court, the judges and the parties. This would not be controlling, but abolishing courts. He argues that Congress cannot abolish the judicial districts, and that its powers cannot go beyond modifying and changing from time to time as, in their wisdom, may seem expedient to the organization of the courts and the division of the country into judicial provinces; but, having once vested judicial power, which, as we are instructed, Congress was bound to do, that body cannot take the power to vacate any judicial tract. He then proceeds to show, by citations from the acts of Congress establishing and defining the judicial districts in North Carolina, that, by these acts and the allotment of judges, by the Supreme Court, under them. It is shown that whatever, under the Constitution of the United States, either of authority or jurisdiction, attaches to districts or circuits as they stand in the statute books, was intended to be, and must be held of full force and virtue now, as heretofore. If it be admitted that the judicial power is intact in the district of North Carolina, though the subject matter of its authority is limited to a category, it is certain that upon these subjects and matters courts of the United States for that district are supreme authority. He argues that the judgment of such a court, as of rights of person and property, the commanding General of a military district is bound to protect and enforce in this view. He says the error of General Sickles reaches fully the statute of a provision of authority which, if persisted in, must immediately acquire the character of waging war against the United States, and understanding which would not for a moment be imputed to the deliberate intention of an officer honorably distinguished for his gallantry in defense of the Constitution. In this, as in any other matter, there may be, he says, a doubt as to jurisdiction; but he would not insult the intelligence of the commander of the second reconstruction district to inquire whether or not he supposed himself authorized by law to forbid the Supreme Court of the United States from hearing causes affecting inhabitants of the States of North Carolina and South Carolina without his consent. He must take it for certain that General Sickles could not, when issuing his order No. 10, have contemplated disputing with his authority, the supreme bench. It is equally certain, if he had been disposed to ascertain his authority through an adjudication by a competent court, a decision could have been procured. The Attorney General then proceeds to show that General Sickles, in interfering with the district court, was, in effect, interfering with the judiciary, including the Supreme Court of the United States as a whole. He then proceeds to examine the reconstruction acts and an act relating to appeals and writs of error to the Supreme Court to show that, with the exception of the suppression or interruption of the regular sessions of the court by rebellion, etc., the judicial establishment was perfectly intact, as if there had been no rebellion and no occasion for reconstructive legislation. He then quotes from the law providing punishment for all persons resisting, obstructing, or impeding any officer in serving an execution process of the court, etc., and declares that these laws are still in force, and that President is bound to enforce them, and if he could be supposed to be willing to suspend he has not the power. The Attorney General concludes his argument so as to allow all process of Federal courts to run in the name of the President of the United States, because mandates of the court call him to action as they do to submission, and he must expect, then, the laws of the highest sanctity by the whole power of the nation if necessary. Is your Excellency in a state of collision with the National Judiciary? If not, since the whole Executive power is thus vested in you by the organic law, and can be diverted by nothing but a change of the organic law during your incumbency, it must follow that the collision of authority, which is the subject hereof, is the misdemeanor of a confumacious and unfaithful executive agent, who, having offended against the power of the lawful judiciary, has rendered himself liable to prosecution according to law; but the great responsibility which appears to me to attach to any such decision, and when the physical power of the offender is able to do this, that for the solid Executive to sunder the judiciary to be overthrown in any case would be, and, therefore, I am solemnly impressed with the belief that safety and honor, President promptly refuse the sentiment declared to him he will be arrested to the last imputation of a culpable insensibility to the co-ordinate dignity and paramount sanctity of the national department of just contempt of law indulged, which once indulged will speedily grasp at the most strings of public order and so reaches all history.

SUNSET NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

Kane Monk, September 1.—European news to the 20th has been received.

The Emperor and Empress of France passed through Augsburg and Munich on their way to Salzburg. At the former place they were received with both favorable and unfavorable demonstrations. At Munich they were met by King Louis, of Bavaria, and received with acclamation by large crowds.

The Times Paris correspondent says: It is believed Monsiers term of office is drawing to a close, should Drouyn De L'Huys replace him it would be a most warlike indication. The same correspondent also says: there can be no doubt that warlike preparations are actually making in France, and work is being hurried on with great speed. The number of "Chassepot" rifles necessary for supplying the whole army cannot be completed before next spring. The meeting of Napoleon and the King of Prussia at Coblentz is definite. Prefect of Perpignan had left for Ceret at the head of a body of gendarmes, to arrest fifty armed men, marching towards the Spanish frontier. Hungary will contribute twenty-eight and a half per cent of the amount required for expenditures of the Austrian empire. The Hungarian Government confiscated 4,000 pounds gunpowder from Berlin to Belgrade.

The King of Italy has given assent to the Church Property Bill.

Paris papers report the situation of affairs in Spain extremely serious. Ex-Minister Madoz had been arrested.

Martial law has been proclaimed in Barcelona.

A battalion of French troops has arrived at Berlin, and exchanged visits with the King and Crown Prince of Prussia.

It is stated that the Bavarian Council and Ministers were emphatically opposed to the King of Bavaria's visit to Salzburg. Prince Hohenlohe was decidedly hostile to the step, as being prejudicial to the interest of Germany.

The Empresses of Austria and France would pay a visit to the Archduchess Sophia, the mother of Maximilian, at Ishle.

THE PRESIDENT AND GENERAL GRANT.

Secretary Seward to be Retained.

The Herald's special says: The truth in regard to various rumors afloat relative to a rupture between General Grant and the President is, that no rupture has taken place; that the two are on the most friendly terms, and that the General has not offered or the President asked him to resign his office. The General did protest against the removal of Sheridan. One ground for the protest being, it was unjust to remove Hancock to New Orleans while the yellow fever was raging there. He also urged that he alone was competent to control matters in the Southern departments, but after a lengthy interview with the President, which was conducted in the most friendly and unimpassioned manner, he asked permission to withdraw his protest, which was granted. The President in his conversation confessed that Congress had invested Grant with the control of Southern districts, but contended that his powers were necessarily subjected to the supervision of the Supreme Executive head. The General without venturing to offer any refuting arguments, assented to the President's views.

The Tribune's special says: General Grant, it is understood, has recently come to the conclusion he had misapprehended his powers under the reconstruction act, and that his last letter to the President in reference to the removal of General Sheridan and the relieving of General Hancock, was issued upon a misunderstanding of his functions. It is stated by those who are well advised as to the movements at the head quarters of the army, that General Grant on Tuesday last addressed a note to the President, withdrawing the letter first above mentioned, and it was immediately returned by Mr. Johnson. The only correspondence now remaining unpublished, is the first letter of General Grant, upon the subject of the removal of Stanton, and marked private, which the President still refuses to allow to be published. General Grant, however, by his referring to it in the correspondence on the removal of General Sheridan, the privacy is removed, and the letter is to be published. In addition, it is also stated that Grant, at the same time, he cannot give it out for such purpose, for the reason it would be a breach of military etiquette.

When General Sickles' views on the subject were communicated to the President, he said that if General Grant thought it was no longer private, he ought to give it for publication, but he would not do so. It now looks as though the letter of Grant, nor that written by Grant on the 27th, on the subject of assigning Hancock to relieve Sheridan, will be made public until Congress meets and calls for them. Secretary Seward's friends say he is not going out of the cabinet, as his presence in the State Department is absolutely required, at least, for some time to come, for the completion of negotiations with Great Britain, concerning the settlement of the Alabama claims which are on a fair way of progress, and upon the basis of the cession of British Columbia, and negotiations with other powers in relving the cession of territory to the United States have also been opened by Mr. Seward, and it is believed that he alone can bring them to a favorable conclusion. The continuation of his services as Secretary of State is therefore deemed as transcending in public importance all temporary political issues growing out of the late proceedings of the President. Jerry Black, Coyre & Co., don't think so, however.

A Good Investment.
AS administrator of the estate of J. M. Lyles, deceased, I wish to dispose of either a half or a entire interest as sole lessee of the Mississippi State Penitentiary. My brother's lease continues for thirteen years, under an act of the Legislature of the state. My object in offering to sell the lease, either in whole or in part, is to relieve myself of the responsibility of personal attention to the management of the business, which, in fact, of necessity, requires my residence at the State Capital, and to be properly controlled would require my immediate and constant supervision. I am a merchant, have a family, and am FREMASONRY located at Oxford, and am otherwise so situated that I cannot give the immense interest growing out of this lease that should be given to it, and which, in addition to about two hundred convicts in the Penitentiary. For particulars address me at Oxford, Miss.

Our Southern Widows and Orphans
IT is the duty of every true Southern person to cast in a mite for the support of those who have been left in destitute condition by the loss of a dear husband or an affectionate father, who laid down their lives in the defense of our once happy and prosperous land.
And being impressed with a sense of this duty, I have determined to appropriate one-fourth, or one-fourth part of my net income for that purpose; and as my business is the publication and sale of the Holy Scriptures, for the benefit of which I have exclusive control of the States of Arkansas and Tennessee, and the counties of Marshall, Benton, Calhoun, Yallabusha and Noxubee, and a counties north of the same in the State of Mississippi, I feel assured that the support of those who have been left in destitute circumstances in my dominion, and to this end I ask a gentleman or lady in every civil district in the above States, who will take an interest in the needy, and who will give a few weeks time, energy and influence to the business, to canvass their respective districts for our standard Southern Historical works. For such services we will allow a liberal commission on sales.
We wish the very best of citizens, and those who can and will take an active interest in our enterprise, to whom we refer to the following names, should they desire to make inquiries.

TUESDAY, : : : : : : SEPTEMBER 3, 1867

THERE are some remarkable admissions in Mr. STEVENS' letter, which we publish today. He admits that Congress made mistakes, and "some of the members of the Senate seemed to doubt their power under the Constitution, which they had just repudiated, and outside of which all agreed that we were acting, else our whole work of reconstruction was usurpation." To work outside the Constitution, what was it but usurpation? What has been the whole Radical theory from the beginning but rank usurpation? Did they not claim a higher law than the Constitution? Has not GRANT said very recently the government depends on the will of the people? This confession of STEVENS' should strike those who have been deaf to all entreaties to harken to Constitutional right, though warned time and again that they were abandoning the form of government fixed by their fathers. The most preposterous propositions were entertained—submitting questions to the conquered Territories as States, and then determining that they were not States. They were States when the amendment to the Constitution liberating the slaves was submitted and they are conquered provinces denied representation under the reconstruction, and supplemental acts of Congress. The utter and entire want of principle so plainly visible throughout will strike any one. The Senator from Ohio alluded to by Mr. STEVENS is JOHN SHERMAN, whose opinions the club footed Pennsylvanian scouts as absurd. He says: "I have said above I do not know the meaning of Conservatism. I have since seen the report of a speech said to have been made by an Ohio Senator, at Canton, Ohio, which, if truly reported and is considered to be a definition of that doctrine, then it to me is very alarming—worse than Copperheadism. It is legislation without authority, and reconstruction by usurpation." It matters little to these worthies what form it shall take. The broad basis of negro equality and negro suffrage, are being swallowed, as bitter a pill as it is, by the prominent Radical candidates of the North, and they will make up for any slight differences that exist on Constitutional points.

MR. S. A. WELLS, news agent on the Mississippi and Tennessee railroad, has published a card relative to his not being the "swindler" on the Mississippi Central to whom we alluded in an article in Sunday morning's issue. In that article we said that many complaints, almost daily, were coming to us from friends along that route, to the effect that they were unable to procure our paper from the train news agent; that the cause of this was the Central road had a "swindler" on it, who stood indebted to us in a sum amounting to nearly five hundred dollars for papers which we had let him have, and which indebtedness we could not get him to discharge, after a faithful trial of many weeks; that we had written to General WEST, President of the road, informing him of the facts, and requesting him to place a news agent on the road who possessed integrity sufficient to warrant us in supplying our paper, through such agency, to those who wished it; that General WEST had never replied to the letter, and still kept the "swindler" on his road, and that the "swindler's" name is WELLS. This name, which we gave, was wrong, and was given through mistake, which Mr. S. A. WELLS, of the Mississippi and Tennessee railroad, very well knew. It was so published through a confused understanding of the news-dealers' names who have business with our office—a mistake, as in this case, which may very reasonably occur. The "swindler" about whom we wrote General WEST, should have been designated as WILLIAM T. H. MCEWEN, a person in no wise connected with Mr. S. A. WELLS in his transactions with us. The latter was perfectly cognizant of this fact, and should have spared himself the trouble of the card to which we refer. We would have rectified the error without journalistic "demands" or requests. Before this explanation was penned Mr. WELLS called upon us and gave assurance that however otherwise it may appear, he did not design to reflect upon us, or give offense in what he had published, but simply meant to publicly disconnect himself from association with the fraudulent transaction of Mr. MCEWEN, and in which purpose we bear him out, because he had nothing to do with it.

ON the first page of this morning's paper, will be found some Washington news concerning General GRANT's late letter to the President about the removal of PHILLIP D'ORLEANS. It seems to be even more mysterious than before the mysteries of the imbroglio. We have never known hot and cold blow so nearly with the same breath. The quid nunes must have been in deplorable amaze, and far out at sea. How so pointed a correspondence could have occurred without a rupture of some sort passes our comprehension. Diplomacy may conceal the fact that any violence was done to the feelings of either, but not the fact that they must be exceedingly sweet tempered gentlemen, not to have given or taken offense. Perhaps, after all, things were accommodated, so that SEWARD's policy of "how not to do it" might prevail. That SEWARD is to be retained is strongly indicative that such will be the policy, and the cabinet will harmonize rather than give place to new Ministers.

HON. CHARLES S. CAMERON will meet General JAMES L. ALCORN at Grenada, on Thursday next. This is done at the special request of a number of the most influential citizens of that place. Colonel CAMERON is ully posted on all the issues of the day, and will give General ALCORN the hot end of the poker to hold. A large crowd is expected to be present, to cheer their respective champions.

MIDNIGHT DISPATCHES.

The Yellow Fever in Galveston and New Orleans.

Removal of the Custom House from the City of Galveston.

Philip D'Orleans Emigrates to Kansas.

The Forthcoming Amnesty Proclamation.

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, September 1.

A warrant was issued from the Treasury Department to-day for $4,370,065 50, in coin, in payment for the interest due on 10-40s up to the 1st instant.

The Secretary of the Treasury to-day received a dispatch from Special Agent Bell, at Galveston, stating that the yellow fever there is fatal beyond precedent. Out of twenty-six officers in the Custom House, only three are fit for duty, and the remainder are either sick or dead.

The Department has issued instructions for the removal of the Custom House further down the island, and outside of the city limits.

FROM NEW ORLEANS.

NEW ORLEANS, September 1.

There were thirty interments from yellow fever yesterday, among the victims was Tom King, the pugilist, and H. MCCormick, of the iron clad Mohawks.

The official order relieving Sheridan was received this morning at headquarters. General Griffin has been telegraphed for. Before his arrival Sheridan takes his departure. Colonels Sheridan, Forsyth and Moore accompany him.

FROM NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, September 2.

The steamer Chauncey brings California mails to the 15th ultimo, and gives $11,328 in gold; also Panama dates to the 2nd.

A plot for a revolution in favor of Maximilian had been discovered at Panama, and the leaders arrested.

The preaching of two Capuchins at Cholatanaya, a place formerly noted for the laxity of its morals, induced six hundred couples to get married, and nine hundred parsons of the holy sacrament.

The cholera is dying out in Nicaragua, but is still raging in some districts.

The Peruvian Government will probably pass a law allowing Spaniards to remain in the country, but in case of acts against the Republic, to be tried and punished for high treason. Congress also favors the reduction of the standing army to 6000.

Rumors of outbreaks were rife, but the authorities seemed prepared for any emergency.

Fears of the return of the Spanish fleet were about dissipated, and work on the batteries at Callao was about suspended.

A fur can storm at Valparaiso, on June 17th, did much damage to the shipping and dwellings. One bark was wrecked and ten lives were lost.

General Mower, the American Minister to Lima, was in Callao, and a rumor prevailed that his mission was relative to the mediation of the United States in the affair with Spain.

The Herald's Washington special says, in relation to the forthcoming amnesty proclamation, that those who are supposed to know something of the President's intentions say pardons will be granted to all classes of rebels except those guilty of piracy and cruel treatment of Union soldiers. The amnesty will restore the parties concerned to all civil rights except those taken away by acts of Congress.

FROM LOUISVILLE.

THE McCOOLE-JONES FIGHT.

Full Description, with the Particulars.

Jones Knocked Down on Every Round.

Great Superiority of McCoole's Strength.

We omit a great deal of the introductory particulars, which reach us through the Louisville Courier, and commence with those which appear most relevant:

9:25 A.M.—Jones' seconds, James Cusick and Jerry Donovan, entered the ring, the latter carrying Jones' fighting shoes, a pair of light calf skin, high lacing, provided with two spikes in the sole and one in the heel.

Since the crowd has all got together around the ring, the most practiced judges compute the crowd to be about 3,500.

McCoole and seconds, Denny O'Brien and Sherman Thurston, soon followed. Rufus Hunt, of New Orleans, selected as referee; Dad Ryan and Jack Looney, both of St. Louis, as umpires. The referee made a little speech, saying: "I have been chosen by unanimous consent referee for this fight, and I intend to see that the best man wins. (Great cheering.) J. J. McCullough was appointed time keeper.

10:15 A.M.—After a tedious wait, during which ice, bottles, sponges, etc., were brought into the ring, Aaron Jones at last appeared amid great cheering, threw his hat into the ring, stepped after it with a light step, but seemed somewhat anxious. He was dressed neatly in a dark coat, light pants and hat, and white cravat. By this time the sun flooded every place in the ring, so there was but little choice for corner.

Aaron took a seat in the corner, awaiting his antagonist, while one of his backers held an umbrella over him, to shield him from the now fervent rays of the sun. He won the choice of corners, and took the one presenting his right shoulder to the sun. Five minutes McCoole sent his black felt hat scudding into the ring. He looked just as anxious as Jones, with whom, on entering the ring, he shook hands in rather an awkward manner. McCoole had on heavy winter clothing, well buttoned up. He took his station in the opposite corner, and was also sheltered by an umbrella.

In walking costume particularly McCoole's superior size is evident. Jones's hands were stained a deep walnut, But McCooles were not. At the latter's request Jones sucked his knuckles to show that no poisonous drug had been used in dying. After saying each other and the crowd for five minutes the seconds commenced disrobing their men. McCoole's hands and arms were considerably larger than Jones', in fact, he is much larger all over, legs, arms, chest and shoulders.

McCoole's costume was blue drawers, hemmed with green, and white stockings. Jones in white drawers and hose. McCoole wore his colors, a sash of red, green, and white, and Jones a sash of white silk. On removing his shirt Mike McCoole's gigantic proportions were revealed. He approached Jones with one thousand dollars for a bet, which was accepted. Jones then advanced and offered to bet McCoole one hundred dollars that he would knock him down first. McCoole said he had no more money to bet. Jones then bantered the crowd, but no one accepted.

FIRST ROUND.

10:45 A. M.—Began sparring, and first knock down and blood for McCoole.

Second Round—Heavy exchanges. Jones thrown.

Third Round—Very heavy fighting. Jones badly hurt under the right eye. Severe exchanges—Jones down.

Fourth Round—Jones knocked down by heavy body blows.

Fifth Round—Heavy exchanges; Jones gets in several terrible blows, but is again knocked down; fighting Jones's hand in McCoole.

Sixth Round—Men came to the scratch at once. Go to work instantly; very heavy blows; Jones knocked down. Again the fight is over; McCoole the victor.

Seventh Round—Sparing; both men feint with smiling faces; men close; Jones knocked down again by a rib roaster.

Eighth Round—Jones sent down by a terrible blow.

Ninth Round—Jones evidently hurt the last blow. Jones knocked over the ropes by a comparatively light blow.

Tenth Round—Jones knocked down after planting one good blow on McCoole's face. Men fighting now only five minutes.

Eleventh Round—Jones suffering greatly. McCoole tries to force the fighting, and sends Jones down again.

Twelfth Round—Jones got a crack on the nose, and went down for the twelfth time.

Thirteenth Round—Terrible blows on both sides. McCoole's face terribly bloody, but Jones generally went down.

Fourteenth Round—Jones smiling; McCoole, however, the fresher. A few exchanges, and Jones went down.

Fifteenth Round—Jones fell without being struck. Great confusion, but McCoole did not want to claim foul.

Sixteenth Round—Jones sent down by a terrible blow.

Seventeenth Round—Jones went down on his knees after a slight blow, and looked smiling at McCoole. [Hisses.]

Eighteenth Round—Jones knocked down outright. Jones seems to have been whipped from the first round.

Nineteenth Round—Little fighting and Jones down. [Renewed hissing.] Jones simply came up to be knocked down.

Twentieth Round—The same old story; Jones knocked down almost without resistance. Faces of both greatly battered.

Twenty-first Round—Same old story; Jones down and in great distress.

Twenty-second Round—Jones sent to grass by a sound lick in the side.

Twenty-third Round—McCoole's eyes greatly hurt; Jones down after an exchange of blows. McCoole's left eye nearly closed.

Twenty-fourth Round—Heavy exchanges. Jones down.

Twenty-fifth Round—Jones rushes in, but McCoole sends him down with heavy body blows. Men fighting now only fourteen minutes.

Twenty-sixth Round—Jones sent down after planting a light stroke, with a terrific blow in the breast.

Twenty-seventh Round—Jones got in a hot one on the eye; "sparring;" McCoole sends Jones over the ropes.

Twenty-eighth Round—Both men up promptly; Jones falls with a light blow in the chest.

Twenty-ninth Round—Fighting now twenty minutes. Jones gets another light blow on McCoole's eye, but is knocked over the ropes again by a body blow.

Thirtieth Round—Jones falls with a few trifling blows again.

Thirty-first Round—Jones greatly distressed and a little groggy; light exchanges, and Jones down as usual.

Thirty-second Round—Jones' body greatly discolored. McCoole's face cut up, but he seems fresh. Jones sent down again. It is now seven minutes past eleven.

Thirth-third Round—Jones hits McCoole on the side, and falls back himself. McCoole goes to his corner smiling.

Thirty-fourth Round—McCoole hits a fearful blow over Jones' left eye, cutting a terrible gash. This settled the fight. Jones failed to come to time, and, amid tumultuous cheering, the crowd closed on McCoole.

Jones seemed almost insensible, leaning on his seconds, and bleeding a stream from his wounded eye. Time of the fight, twenty-five minutes. The fearful blows Jones received in the first round settled the whole affair. Jones hadn't the slightest chance.

McCoole's punishment is comparatively light. Jones was fearfully overmatched. Ten minutes after the fight closed, Jones still laid on the field insensible. No doctor seemed to be present. McCoole walked off with a fresh step and smiling face.

It is reported two of Jones' ribs are broken.

LYON'S

PERIODICAL DROPS!

THE GREAT

Female Remedy for Irregularities

I HAVE tested these Drops in my own practice over ten years, and do not hesitate to say, that nothing has ever been developed by medical research that acts so powerfully, positively and harmlessly, in cases of female irregularity, as does this medicine. In all recent cases it never fails, while thousands who have been long sufferers, are indebted to it for the boon of health to day.

Although so powerful and positive, they are perfectly harmless, and may be used at all times, except when specially forbidden in the directions.

They have been extensively employed by eminent physicians in France and England, as well as in my own practice, over ten years, and HAVE yet to hear of the first instance of failure. I could give you testimonials of their efficacy from ladies all over the Northern and Western States, were they, or I in their names private. Over one hundred thousand bottles have been sold the past year, and I hope and trust as many more have been benefited. I am well aware that a remedy so potent in the hands of the unskilled, would be a curse, therefore I contruct that where one bottle is thus used, ten may fall into the hands of really needy sufferers.

To all who are afflicted from any irregularity; painful, difficult, excessive, obstructive or obstructed Menstruation, Leucorrhœa, or the train of diseases that follow, I would say, TRY a bottle of DR. LYON'S FRENCH PERIODICAL DROPS. Being a fluid preparation, their action is at once direct and positive in all pills or powders. Explicit directions, bearing my fac simile, accompany each bottle.

They may be obtained of nearly every druggist in the country, or by inclosing the price to C. G. CLARK & CO., New Haven, Connecticut, General Agents for the United States and Canada.

THEATRICAL.—The entire interior of the New Memphis Theater is being repainted and refitted. Manager W. C. Thompson will then open his doors to the public on the 23d of the present month. Miss Avonia Jones will be the first star of the season. Miss Jones has been absent in Europe for two years, and has met with much success in London and in the cities of Ireland and Scotland, she intends keeping her promise, that in of "appearing first in this city of all places in this country" upon her return to America.—Mr. Thompson hopes as to introduce a season tickets. The list will close next Saturday.

PERSONAL.—We had the pleasure yesterday of seeing in our city W. Wms. Taylor, Esq., agent of the Jeffersonville, Columbus and Indiana railroad. He was making fast traveling for Alex. McCullough's, where he smiled with several friends. The last we saw of him was after a square meal at the Overton, he was singing his favorite refrain—

"Twenty-four hours and a squaw
Were guyline away to Arkansaw"

as the train departed, and he took away the baggage express driver. Mr. Taylor is a genial gentleman, and we regret that his stay was so brief, although it sufficed to determine some interesting and advantageous arrangements.

COMMUNICATED

MISSISSIPPI AND ARKANSAS TRANSPORTATION COMPANY.—Among the many arrangements for shipping East, North, West and South, inland from Memphis, which have the greatest facilities, the steamship lines in use, and now under the superintendence of Will am Jay Johnson, of the Star wharf-boat, a gentleman of rare experience as a merchant, of great activity and energy of character, and of unblemished integrity. Agents have already been appointed in the large cities, and have accepted the several positions assigned them. Our young friend Frank Gunterman, admirably posted as he is, has gone to Louisville to take charge of the company's interests there. Messrs. George L. Johnson & Co. are the agents at Charleston, S. C. Bernhal st. Louis, and there are agencies on White and Arkansas rivers. Active preparations are being made to have these agencies established at every important point, so that in transit there may be no delay, or, if an end, dent should occur, which is not probable, it may be at once remedied. These agencies will be so distributed as to form a chain of connecting links, wherever this place and all the cities East, North, West and South, and receipts given for the freights on fast lines. The arrangements have been made with such completeness, as to preclude any apprehension of delay or mistake. The company having been in successful operation during the past year, and having given invariable satisfaction, a large share of the business of transportation is confidently anticipated, and from our long acquaintance with Mr. Johnson, the Superintendent, his wide spreading agencies, reaching every point of any importance, we have full faith in his success.

We would call the special attention of our friends in Mississippi and Arkansas having goods to be shipped from the East, and from Louisville, Cincinnati or St. Louis, that they can insure their safe and speedy transportation by engaging their shipments on this line, and their delivery in the shortest possible time. This company is prepared to give through bills for cotton from Memphis to any point, on fast lines and at the most reasonable rates.

PERSONALS.

The Lee block, on Monroe street, is nearly completed, and it is one of the finest in the city.

Sam Turner was arrested and taken before Squire Hall yesterday for beating his wife with a chair, and stealing $25 from her pocket while on Hernando street.

A leg ee is preparing for presentation to the Board of Trade, a statement of the necessity of our merchants taking active steps to favor immigration to West Tennessee.

It is reported about town that Dr. W. A. White would like to be nominated, and his friends are pushing him for the Mayoralty.

The grand reception ball to be given on Thursday, September 12th, under the auspices of the base ball clubs, will be one of the finest affairs ever gotten up in Memphis.

The clever Ed. Gray, book-keeper for W. S. Bruce & Co., carriage makers, has just arrived from a tour North, and looks dusty.

An old fashioned shooting the Japanese of real estate from the dull state of affairs, a gentleman states that he paid eight thousand dollars for a lot, spent three thousand dollars in building a house, and now offers but can't sell the house and lot for seven hundred dollars.

We are informed by good authority that three clergymen of this city are so infatuated with lo tery gambling that they take chances in three or four drawings every week. As a justification of their action, it is stated that they are remarkably lucky.

Mr. F. McConnell, superintendent of the gas works, somebody wants to make him one of the trustees of the Mobile and Ohio railroad, another suggests him as receiver of the Memphis and Ohio railroad, and a third proposes that he shall be made Colonel of the Fourteenth in place of Fitzhugh.

Sam Adams, a good looking fellow, was arrested yesterday on the charge of swindling Tom Raymond out of $5, by telling him that he was a farmer, and that he would give him (Raymond) one hundred dollars in a few days for his seventy-eight dollars.

A negro named Henry Jones was arrested yesterday for stealing seventeen dollars and a rifle from the house of Mr. Mowatt, on Madison near Third street. He was taken before Squire Lee, and held to answer.

The store of Cochran & Co. was entered by burglars, on Sunday night, and robbed of one hundred dollars' worth of wines and liquors.

Watermelons sell at from twenty-five to fifty cents each. On President's Island they can be bought for eight cents each.

Ned Payne was arrested, yesterday, for stealing a skiff from a fisherman named John Green, at the foot of Jackson street. He tried to sell it for twenty-eight dollars.

Dan. Burke, a wharf rat, was arrested for stealing a suit of clothes that belonged to Jerry Neal, from the steamer Bella Memphis.

The dissolution of the firm of Herbert, Bell & Co.'s firm that has been distinguished by ente prise and honorable dealing, and that by its course has done much to sustain the reputation of the merchant profession, will attract wide attention. It is announced that it is to be succeeded by the new firm of Allmond & Anderson, at No. 3 Promenade stone, foot of Jefferson street, and Mr. Bell in a card commends to the confidence of the public his successors, one of whom was his former partner, and the other is a gentleman of capability and reliability. They will do a general commission and forwarding business, as well as deal in hay, corn, bacon, lard, whisky, flour and other leading articles.

Ex-Police Sergeant Lincoln, who has been with the Metropolitan force since its organization, and has the reputation of having been an efficient officer, resigned on last Sunday. Since the last election there has been an onside pressure against him, because it was suspected that he had voted for Sharkey, and the hoosiers against proscription showed so anxious a desire to proscribe him that he concluded to go in other business, and we hope he may do well. The main ground for having a Metropolitan force was that it should be clear of politics.

The work on the gas works and in the putting down the mains is being pushed forward with all the energy and ability of the master mind that originated the scheme, and will be a lasting monument to the public spirit and intelligence of John Donovan, Esq., a gentleman of whom Memphis may well be proud—a clear headed, liberal, enterprising, public spirited citizen. He has made, we understand, satisfactory arrangements for the rapid delivery of all the material of the gas works, and is confident of his ability to have all the works finished this year. The public have very much cause for congratulation that another gas manufactory is being built under the management of Mr. Donovan.

The mandamus prayed for by the Mayor on behalf of the city against Beaumont, to compel him and all members of the police force to make a full statement of the money and books they have coming into their possession, is to be argued next Friday. This indicates that Beaumont will, only under legal compulsion, make such statements. It was supposed that a conscientious man, in the public opinion would indulge in his reluctance as prima facie proof of his complicity with such illicit practices as fast detection, would induce him to obey the law without litigation but it seems he hopes, by some legal quibble, to retain his chances.

Two gallant gentlemen, named Burgett and Brown, from Crittenden county, Arkansas, were yesterday conversing pleasantly in a store in Webster Block, when a dispute arose, and one gave the other the lie. In a moment the individual whose veracity was questioned drew a musket like derringer and a six shooter and blazed away at his interlocutor. Fortunately the ball grazed without hitting, and ex-Sergeant Lincoln rushing into the affray, stopped it. The fighters were taken to the Station House; but on the way thither they fraternized, and one having to money, the other put up a forfeit for both. When they retired, the whole affair was dropped, and with arms fraternally locked, they were declaring that they were "old friends from Crittenden county." Perhaps bir ing away with derringers at each other is the way they show their friendship in Crittenden county.

LAW COURT.—Yesterday the case of Metcalf vs. Dowell, occupied the attention of the Court up to the hour of adjournment. It will be concluded to-day.

The regular cases set for trial to-day are as follows:

T. D.
19 Metcalf et al vs Dowell et al.
161 Nail vs Patterson et al.

The following cases on writ of inquiry will be disposed of:

T. D.
1240 Polsour vs Brinkley.
A. D.
1440 Yankirk & Co. vs Cowell & Co.
1260 Frankland vs Newman.
1261 Taltan vs Andrews.

Proceedings of the Board of Health.

At a regular meeting of the Board of Health, assembled at Doctor W. E. Rogers' office, the President being absent, Doctor R. F. Brown presided.

Members present—Doc ors Pitman, A. K. Taylor, O. B. Knode, Paul H. Otey and R. F. Brown.

Proceedings of last meeting were read and adopted.

Doctor Pitman offered the following resolution, which was adopted:

Resolved, That the health officer be required to visit all boats that have been plying between places where yellow fever prevails, and that he send all patients with that disease at once to the hospital, without stopping in the city.

Resolved, That city authorities prevent any steamboat or barge from any place where yellow fever exists, "laying up" within five miles of the city limits.

Resolved, by Dr. Otey:

Resolved, That in view of animal decomposition in every direction from the city, to the great annoyance of citizens as well as the baneful influence on the health of the suburbs as well as the city, the slaughter houses of Messrs. Hollingsworth & Co., and all others, be removed to the bank of the river, and such places as the Board of Health may designate.

Dr. Rogers read the following report, which was received:

To the Board of Health:

Since the last meeting of the Board, in accordance with your resolution, I have visited and reported upon the several complaints handed over to me for such cases. As no suggestions have been made by the Board in relation to the duties of the office, under the direction of Sergeant Smith, are doing good service, not only in looking after indigent sick, but in keeping a strict watch upon the premises of every one in the city, reporting and abating nuisances. Under the present management we have experienced a decided benefit from the system of visiting at the chain gang are at work cleaning the streets, and a sufficient number of carts have been to remove all offensive matter.

The city, as your President advised, have purchased a new boat which is in position at the foot of Beale street, for the carts to empty from into the river.

I herewith submit a condensed report of Drs. Earty and Tarbell, physicians for the first and second districts, as well as my own for the last twenty-five days:

NUMBER PATIENTS TREATED.

	Whites	Negroes.	Total.
District No. 1	37	11	48
District No. 2	113	93	206
Central District	42	31	73
Whole number treated			327
Sent to hospital			27
Number of prescriptions compounded at Dispensary No 1			48
Number of prescriptions compounded at Dispensary No. 2			206
Total			412

You will see from the a ove report that quite a number of cases have been relieved, that under other circumstances would, necessarily, have gone to the hospital. I would here state that the physicians in charge of the dispensaries are very rigid and discreet, prescribing and dispensing only to such as are objects of charity.

Secretary Board of Health.

R. F. BROWN,
President pro tem.

Board adjourned.

RIVER NEWS.

AVALANCHE OFFICE,
TUESDAY, September 3.

BUSINESS—WEATHER—RIVERS.

Weather clear, with a refreshing breeze blowing. The river is declining steadily, with seven and a half feet on the bars from here to Cairo. The Ohio was rising slowly at Cincinnati on Saturday, with seven and a half feet in the channel. At Louisville the stone is reported stationary, with four and a half feet on the bars in the lower Ohio. The Arkansas is falling slowly, with thirty inches in the channel. White river is declining, with four and a half feet on the bars to Augusta.

ARRIVALS.

IN PORT.

Steamers Commercial, Bella Hambleton, Natona, Ozark, J. S. McCune and Bella Memphis.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The business of the week has been confined to the filling of small orders for actual consumption. The landing has been generally deserted, but few boats leaving and arriving. The W. R. Arthur, for Vicksburg, went up light, and freights of all kinds have been scarce. We have heard of the receipt of no more cotton since the first bale, notice of the sale of which, at forty cents, has already been published. On Saturday night and Sunday morning there was a fall of rain, that could not have come at a more propitious period. The air has been very agreeable since, and the nights are deliciously cool.

We had the pleasure yesterday of seeing Colonel Frolich, of the Searcy Record, on his way home from his agreeable visit to the old familiar grounds. He looks as though he had taken a good holiday, and will work vigorously when he returns to his Record.

An ordinance, which has never heretofore been enforced, is to roll force now, relative to the steamer Hospital and the passengers brought here from other places. It subjects the officers of boats so landing them here, without making provisions for their immediate maintenance and medical attendance required, to a heavy penalty, which has been in several recent instances inflicted. The passengers ought here from abroad will not be received in the General Hospital. This may seem harsh to a sick man, but is only the law of self-preservation. We are thus particularly far bringing this subject to notice, as captains of steamers should be advised as to what they may expect in future if they bring any more passengers here without providing for them.

Mr. Monroe T. Cunningham, clerk of the W. R. Arthur, turned over the books to his successor, and left on Sunday evening for St. Louis, per rail.

The Bella Memphis arrived last evening at eight p.m. She lost thirty-six hours by grounding at Phillip's and Plum Point bar. She reports only seven and a half feet water at Plum Point and Phillip's. Her freight will be discharged by morning, whereupon at ten a.m. for Cairo and St. Louis. Captain Remley way commands, with Geo. Dean, an affable gent, in the office.

The City of Alton was due last evening, and will be found at the wharf this morning, ready to receive.

Jimmy Thompson and Alex. Cook, old river clerks, and recently of the Celeste, are about to beautify and adorn the village with a new coat of ping white and other ornaments that will render her as pretty as a pink. It is a good way of uniting in their time.

The steamer Kenny S. Tyrrell, bound from St. Louis to Omaha, struck a snag on Thursday evening, below Copiah's wood yard, 100 miles above Nebraska City, and sank in twelve f et water at the stern, leaving the deck dry forward of the boilers. The Tyrrell was owned by Captain James C. Jo e, and estate of Samuel Jack, St. Louis, and valued at $70,000. She was built at Brazeria offices for two-thirds of her value. She was built at Cincinnati, in March 1866, and was one of the best boats of her class.

Captain William Richardson, of the steamer Robert E. Lee, passed through the city yesterday, en route to Louisville.

The Mollie Hambleton, Captain Bowman, is the regular Tuesday St. Francis river packet. She leaves at five p.m.

The Natona, in command of the urbane and experienced officer, Captain John Edson, is the regular Tuesday Vicksburg and bends packet, in place of the St. Patrick. She leaves at five p.m. Clay Rice is her accommodating clerk.

The St. Patrick will resume her regular trips in the Vicksburg and bends trade on Tuesday next.

The City of Alton is the regular Tuesday Cairo and St. Louis packet, at five p.m. Captain Sam. McPheeters, courteous gentleman, commands, with the attentive clerk, Mr. McCreight, to wait on and please.

The Ozark, a light draught packet, with unsurpassed passenger accommodations, leaves to-day at five p.m. for the Arkansas river and all way points. Captain Wm. Cowden commands, Mr. Williams, a clever gentleman, in charge of the office.

The Little Rock and Fort Smith packet, the America, is en route for Memphis, to be placed on the docks and repaired, to ply in the Memphis and Arkansas river trade during the low water season.

Navigation between here and Cairo is getting very precarious. All down stream boats drawing over six feet experience much difficulty with the bars.

The Confidential, Pat Yore, leaves the wharf this morning at ten a.m. for New Orleans.

The J. S. McCune is advertised to leave for White river on Thursday.

The following is the established rates of freight from Memphis to White river, local or reshipping: Indian Bay and all way landings to Des Arc: 50c per 100 pounds; dry barrels, 75c; salt, per barrel, $; pork, $1 25; whisky, $1 75; molasses, $1 75; corn, oats and bran, 40c. Augusta, West Point and Searcy, 60c per 100 pounds; dry barrels, $1 25; salt, per barrel, $1 50; whisky, $2; molasses, $2 50; corn, oats and bran, 50c. Jacksonport, 75c per 100 pounds; dry barrels, $1 25; salt, per barrel, $1 50; pork, $1 75; whisky, $2 25; molasses, $3; corn, oats and bran, 75c. Black River ft. $2 per 100 pounds; dry barrels, $1 75; salt, per barrel, $1 75; pork, $2; whisky, $3; molasses, $4; corn, oats and bran, $3.

The Gen. J. Hale is due from Cincinnati, and is advertised to leave on Wednesday for a return trip.

The Henry Ames, Captain Crawford, will leave the wharf this evening at five o'clock for New Orleans direct.

The Cincinnati Gazette of Saturday says:

Business is not brisk, and yet it is not dull for the season. Considerable freight is moving to and all points. The action of the Chamber of Commerce in the new style of landing does not seem to retard shipments a great deal, if any at all. Indeed, we very much doubt whether the imposing of our merchants can a great deal about the matter. If they do, it is not detected by a diminution in business. The river is rising at the point, but falling above. The marks at the water works exhibited a depth in the channel of seven feet four inches at six o'clock last evening, which is seven inches less than in twenty-four hours.

The St. Louis Democrat of Saturday has the following:

The regular decline of about three inches per day continues. The gauge at Chouteau's wharf this morning was 2 feet 5 inches, and the indications are that it will be about 2 feet by Monday. There is four feet in the lower Missouri. Freight is abundant or New Orleans, Memphis and Cairo. The Ozark will have a full freight for Little Rock. Lady Gay will leave to-day all she wants, and sails again to-morrow morning. Weather warm again, and business steadily improving. The coffer dam, foot of Washington avenue, is nearly completed.

The Vicksburg Herald of Saturday says:

The steamer Mamie R. Cook and Strong, of this city, have purchased from Captain Phillip's yard Plum Point bar, for three thousand dollars. She is soon to be placed in the Vicksburg and Yazoo City trade.

The Low stride Courier of yesterday says:

The Spray has abandoned the Evansville and Cairo trade, and will now run regularly between Cincinnati and Evansville.

The Linda, from Pittsburg, bound for Cairo, got caught in the wind yesterday as she was entering the mouth of Cairo bay, and was carried on the rocks. She had not got off at late hour yesterday evening. Her cargo was not damaged. The Lucie won the prize flag, and he is still the champion. We would like to see a race between the Lucie and the Mollie Hambleton, and Island, at Portland. He was then a deck hand on the river. Now he can add was a captain and owner on the Indiana on her first trip. Mike is the Portland champion, the rapid inland crane, and the Kentucky champion. Mollie is the handle to a name. The steamer Linton, a new craft, came in from Pittsburg early yesterday morning, and proceeded on her regular trip to and from Cincinnati. The Linton, Captain Drew, expects to ply between Cincinnati and the Kentucky river. She is a handsome boat and a very light draft craft, now drawing less than two feet water from the bar. She is 180 feet long, 32 feet beam, 5 feet hold, and is 167 feet in length, with twenty-nine and a half feet beam. She was nearly a week at Cincinnati awaiting her freight, and reported in passing about 100 tons aboard.

"MISTAKES."

Why Congress Failed to Pass Laws Restraining the Removal of District Commanders.

What Thad. Stevens Thinks About It.

The Lancaster (Pa.) Herald and Examiner of the 28th contains the following correspondence:

COLUMBIA, PENN., Aug. 21, 1867.

Hon. Thaddeus Stevens, Lancaster, Pennsylvania:

DEAR SIR: Several of your intelligent constituents in this region, no doubt from want of proper information, are complaining of mistakes made by Congress in not passing laws, at the last session, restraining the removal of certain officers engaged in reconstruction. I contend that you passed an act at the very close providing for that very contingency, but which is not executed. Will you be so good as to inform me now, for our Representative is responsible for the omission, if omission there be.

Your friend, SAM. SCHOCH.

LANCASTER, PENN., August 26, 1867.

Colonel Samuel Scooch, Columbia, Pennsylvania:

DEAR SIR: You are right in supposing that Congress made mistakes, as to the inevitable lot of man; but you mistake in supposing that there is any law to prohibit the removal of district commanders, without the consent of the Senate. Soon after the commencement of the last session of Congress, I reported a bill from the Committee of the House of Representatives, which contained provisions prohibiting removals without the consent of the Senate. The Senate struck it out and returned it to the House, who refused to concur in the amendment. The result was a Committee of Conference, where an animated contest ensued. There were several other questions in controversy between the Houses, which the House offered to yield if this would be granted. The Senate perseveringly refused, declaring that they would sooner lose the bill. As that would frustrate all our legislation, it could not be allowed. The House yielded, with a warning of the evil it would inflict upon the country. Some of the members of the Senate seemed to doubt their power, under the Constitution which they had just repudiated, and wholly outside of which all agreed that we were acting, else our whole work of reconstruction was usurpation; or perhaps they had a desire to be thought grossly conservative and magnanimous. These ideas seemed to control the action of some half a dozen Senators, who preferred trusting the President. My dear Colonel, a few Senators of great ability, undoubted patriotism and purity, have become so saturated with what they are pleased to call Conservatism (whose meaning, I confess, I am unable to understand), that I fear they will forget the monster that was slain in 1776, and again in 1861; and will thus do great damage to the creation of a Government now so capable of being converted into a political paradise. This is liable to happen, not so much by a direct and palpable attack upon its framework as by gradually forgetting the vital principles of the Declaration of Independence. Strike out one of the living sparks which gave life to our Goddess of Liberty, and a mysterious and intense heat, whose welding fires near a century ago and at present are fusing principles of freedom and reducing despotism to cinders, will gradually cool, until the most conservative despot could thrust his sword into it without affecting its temper. I have said above that I did not know the meaning of conservatism. I have since seen the report of a speech said to have been made by an Ohio Senator at Canton, Ohio, which, if it be fully reported, and is to be considered as a definition of that doctrine, then it to me is very alarming—worse than copperheadism. It is legislation without authority and reconstruction by usurpation.

I am, very respectfully, your obedient servant, THADDEUS STEVENS.

THE PAST.

Interesting Relics Discovered.

From the Nashville Union and Dispatch, 31st ult.]

The building known as Sloan's Carriage Manufactory some fifteen years ago, and since as Sloan's stables, a few doors north of the Square on Market street, was erected in 1831 by Colonel Andrew Hynes for a warehouse. It was burned down by fire or fall or winter, and has remained as we have since. Having use for such material to make a fill in that neighborhood, Alderman Kinney, Chairman of the Street Committee, purchased the ruin for that purpose. In hauling away the rubbish, the front entrance—which was a double arch, supported by a center column of dressed stone—was torn down yesterday. When this center column tumbled down, from its interior came out a tin box, bright and new, securely sealed. Mr. Kinney's curiosity, very naturally led him to open it. Upon doing so he found its contents to be as follows:

One silver half dollar and a silver ten cent piece, United States coin; also a silver plate two and a half inches long, one and a half wide, inscribed as follows: "This warehouse was erected in the year of our Lord 1831. Prosper Kane, Architect."

A sheet of heavy foolscap paper, inscribed on one page: "William B. Ament, brickmason; Joseph Gidgry, carpenter, Nashville, December, 1830." On the next page was written: "Andrew Jackson, President of the United States. William Carroll, Governor of Tennessee." There was also a note from Governor Carroll to Colonel Hynes, wishing to see him "immediately on particular and important business," dated January 10, 1830. Another letter from same to same at New Orleans, in relation to the sale of some land, for which the consideration was to be in "freight," dated May 1st, 1828.

The following autograph letter from General Jackson:

COLONEL ANDREW HYNES—Sir: I have concluded, if you have a 120 gallon still ready made, to take it on condition it will suit you to secure the pay out of the proceeds of my present crop of cotton, say, in all the month of March next. I place the payment in March, should my cotton crop fail having no rain yet—that I may be able, from other sources then due, to meet this engagement. I suppose a still of 120 or 125 would cost seventy-five cents per gallon; be that as it may, I am willing to give whatever is your customary price.

Please write me by my boy, who will hand this; as my fruit is spoiling, and if I get a still this season I shall want her immediately.

I am, very respectfully, your most obedient servant, ANDREW JACKSON.

AUGUST 23d, 1827.

These letters were each indorsed in the bold hand writing of Colonel Hynes, as "fair specimens of the hand writing" of the then President, and Governor of Tennessee.

Copies of the newspapers of the city as follows: "The Nashville Republican and State Gazette" of December the 7th and 9th, 1830. By Allen & Hall.

"National Banner" of December 7th, 1830. By Hunt, Tardiff & Co.

"National Banner and Nashville Whig" of December the 8th, 1830.

Everything was in a perfect state of preservation—the newspapers looking a little dingy.

These relics will call back to the memory of our old citizens, the times of nearly forty years ago—when life was a Maying.

Trouble seems to be brewing in Europe. The cable informs us that the South German States will not unite with Austria or Prussia, but have resolved to hold the balance of power between the Northern Confederacy and the Austrian Empire. The increased bitterness of tone in the Prussian journals in regard to the Salzburg Conference is causing much anxiety. The latest advices from the insurrection in Arragon, Spain, indicate that the insurgents are still victorious, and the capture of Saragossa, the capital of the province, is reported. Austria and France, it is said, unite in dissauding Denmark from insisting on a retrocession of Duppel and Alsen by Prussia.

It is reported that in a few days an order will be issued from the Commissioner of the Internal Revenue, rescinding a former order prohibiting the shipment of distilled spirits from one general bonded warehouse to another. The new order will permit the shipment from a general bonded warehouse to another bonded warehouse at a different port, under bond.

EDUCATIONAL.

SELECT SCHOOL

—FOR—

YOUNG LADIES & CHILDREN

MRS. M. A. KNOX

WILL open her School on MONDAY, September 2d, 1867, at

NO. 195 COURT STREET.

On the plan of her former school in Nashville.

Particular attention will be paid to PHYSICAL EDUCATION. Calisthenics will be daily taught in the School, and private classes in Dancing, as an exercise, will be formed after school hours, to avoid the necessity of pupils attending dancing schools during the week. Vocal Music will be daily practiced to exercise the voice, cultivate the ear.

The course of instruction will comprise all ordinary English branches and the Languages, ancient and modern. No extra charge for Latin, except when taught by a Professor. French and Italian taught by Principal or by Professors, at the option of parents. A class in German, by a Professor, will receive special attention.

The Natural Sciences and Higher Mathematics taught by Professors—the former by lectures, illustrated by experiments.

A class in HISTORICAL READING will be formed for young ladies having finished their Scholastic Course. One night in each week, will be devoted to this, and young ladies in the vicinity will also be received as students in Modern Languages or Music.

The reputation of Mrs. Knox, with regard to moral training and that most important part of education—is too well established to need comment.

The object of this enterprise is to elevate the standard of female education in the South.

Mrs. Knox desires to do for the young people of Memphis what she essayed to do for those of her own home, in which efforts, as many of her old pupils will testify, she was eminently successful.

Mrs. Knox would, through this medium above, solicit the patronage of her former friends and patrons, and of all who have not placed their children elsewhere. Session twenty weeks in length, including Christmas holiday of one week.

Monthly Terms Payable at the End of Each Month.

Tuition in English from 9 to six, except in Classics, $40 00
Tuition in French and Italian, by Principal, each St. 40 00
Tuition in French, Italian and German by Professors, at their charges.

Tuition in Music at Professors' charges.
Tuition in Drawing and Painting at the regular price taught in Schools.
Tuition in Embroidery and Ornamental Needle Work, $5
Tuition in Dancing at Teacher's charge, with usual deduction for Incidental Fee.

Pupils received at any time and charged till end of month. No deduction made except in cases of protracted illness, or where there are three or four pupils in a family.

St. Agnes Academy.

THE FALL TERM and Thirty-third Session of the Academy

Will Open on Monday, the 2d of September.

SOMERVILLE INSTITUTE.

THIS SCHOOL FOR YOUNG LADIES

Will be opened on September 2d,

Under the continued direction of the undersigned.

THE buildings are commodious and spacious; the situation beautiful and healthy; the corps of teachers is full and able; the terms are extremely low, and in a retired part of the town, and furnished with both cistern and well water. No case of serious sickness has occurred during the last two years.

CHARGES WILL BE AS FOLLOWS:

Tuition per session of twenty weeks	$30 00
Music	25 00
Use of Instrument	10 00
Language	10 00
Incidental fee	2 50
Board per month	12 00

Pupils furnish their own towels, lights and bed covering. For further particulars see Circulars. Address

Somerville, Tennessee.

The Mount Auburn Young Ladies' Institute,

SITUATED on that beautiful eminence north of the city of Cincinnati from which it derives its name, has just closed its twenty-second session.

The past year has been one of unusual prosperity, there having been 8 boarders more than a hundred and thirty young ladies, gathered from all parts of the United States. No case of sickness requiring a physician has occurred.

Its healthful location and its country position, while yet so near the city, gives it advantages over either city or country schools.

Its character as a first rate Seminary of Learning is too well known to need further comments.

The Library, Cabinet and Apparatus, already very extensive, are receiving yearly additions.

MR. VIGUS WILL RE-OPEN HIS SCHOOL

On Monday September 9.

Southern Iron House

No. 270 Front street.

PAUL & CROCKETT have moved their stock of Iron and Nails to No. 270 Front street, between Court and Madison, where can be found at all times in the city; also, a very superior quality of Common Iron, brands KENTUCKY IRON, at reduced prices.

The Only Stock of Tennessee Iron

Agents for Collins' Axes, Hunt's Files, Smiths' Tools, Wagon Material, Cotton Gins, Threshers, Horse Powers, Ober McCormick's Reapers and Mowers. From long experience in the west of agricultural implements, they are prepared to supply everything kept in our line of business, at low rates.

Upon the 1st day of August we reduced the price of Tennessee Iron one cent per pound, and Ex. Scrap or Common Iron one-half cent per pound.

$2,000 REWARD!

IN order to more effectually suppress Incendiarism within the city of Memphis, a

Reward of Two Thousand Dollars

Will be paid by the Board of Memphis Underwriters to any person or other person who shall procure the arrest and legal conviction of any person or persons guilty of firing any house insured by any of the Insurance Companies comprising said Board. By order of the Board.

A Card.

WE will at once rebuild our warehouse, and will have it completed by the 15th of September. Those who have stored with us during the month of August, and who may prefer not to do so the approaching one, may rest assured we will be ready for them.

We design establishing a Cotton Compress in connection with our warehouse, to open in the early part of the month, which will be ready by the 1st of October or sooner. This compress will be a great improvement in the river receiving facilities of cotton so convenient that we can receive cotton for shipment by river the day of drayage. The advantages of the position is equal to one drayage on all cotton in our warehouse for compression. Those who have cotton to ship by river will find it to their interest to store it with us. Any wishing to have their cotton compressed, can have it done on application to us.

Administratrix of John Baum, deceased

Trustee's Sale.

Valuable Mississippi River Plantation for Sale.

BY virtue of a deed of trust made to me as trustee on the 15th day of December, 1866, which deed of trust is duly registered in the Register's office of Tipton county, Tennessee, in record book P, pages 301, 302 and 303, and to which reference is had for a full description of the lands conveyed, I will proceed, on Friday, the 6th day of September, 1867, between the hours of 11 o'clock a.m. and 3 o'clock p.m., at public sale, in front of the Postoffice in Memphis, Tennessee, to the highest bidder for cash, the following real estate, described in said trust deed as follows: A certain tract of land situate, lying and being in the county of Tipton and State of Tennessee, on the banks of the Mississippi river, adjoining the lands of John Trigg on the north, John and R. S. Allen on the west, and Peirce's land on the east, and bounded Benton's on the south, containing six hundred acres, it being the tract of land sold by Susan Brown to B. T. Harvell on the 18th of December, 1865; said deed of trust also conveys with it a land all cassia and hogs, corn and cotton crops on the place, and all farming utensils and mechanics' tools, which will also be sold at the same time.

There is now said to be a magnificent cotton crop growing on the place. There is a comfortable dwelling house, also other outhouses and buildings on the place, said to be a model plantation formerly belonging to Bedford Brown, Esq. The sale will be positive, as it is made for the payment of a balance due on the purchase notes.

Equity of redemption is waived. The title to said property is believed to be undisputed, but I will only sell and convey as trustee. R. L. BELCHER,

For more particular information apply to BELCHER & BELCHER, Attorneys, Irving Block.
